Causes a Murder at Madisonville Saturday Afternoon—Perd Lutz Killed by Jeff Morgan

ARGUED POLITICS WHILE DRINKING.

Perd Lutz, a well to do farmer, was killed in Madisonville Saturday evening by Jeff Morgan. Both men were drinking more or less and were arguing politics. Morgan struck Lutz over the head with a club, tearing the scalp and fracturing his skull. He died in a few minutes after being struck, without regaining consciousness.

Morgan succeeded in escaping at the time but was subsequently arrested at the home of his father-in-law, John Hall, near Concord church, Sunday. When arrested he claimed that he struck Lutz to protect his father-in-law, at whom Lutz had thrown a brick, and had no idea of killing him. He made no resistance when arrested and was lodged in the Madisonville jail Sunday afternoon.

Lutz was about forty years old and has been living in Hopkins county a number of years. He was never known to be in any serious trouble before. His main fault was a desire for liquor, and when drinking would invariably talk politics and religion. He was with Jno. Hall, Sr., and Jno. Hall, Jr., and Jeff Morgan. When these men started home Lutz followed them to the burnt district, where their horses were hitched.

The bystanders present say all of the men were under the influence of liquor and when Lutz, who was the only Republican in the crowd, demanded that he be permitted to present his side of the case. Young Hall objected, whereupon Lutz threw a brick at him, striking the elder Hall on the knee. This so enraged Morgan that he grabbed a heavy club and struck Lutz on the head, killing him in a few moments. Morgan ran as soon as the blow had been struck, and when one of the men present proclaimed that Lutz was dead, the two Hall men jumped in their buggy and drove rapidly away, picking up Morgan on the outskirts of the town. The body of Lutz was removed to the undertaker's, where Coroner Stevens returned a verdict in accordance with the above facts.

Lutz leaves a wife and two grown daughters. He was considered an industrious hard working man and was one of the best tobacco growers in the county. He was a member of the Universalist church and a staunch Republican and when drinking ardently championed the cause of his party and his church.

Morgan is a man about 30 years old and hails from near Russellville Logan county. He was married to Hall's daughter about ten months ago. He was indicted at the last term of court and fined on a misdemeanor charge. When brought before Judge Bradley Sunday afternoon he appeared to be unconcerned and talked freely about the murder.

Mose Garrett Dies.

Mose Garrett, colored, the 16-year-old son of St. Charles, who was injured several days since, while jumping on and off a trip of empty minic cars, died Sunday as a result of these injuries. Garrett was not an employee of the mine and had been frequently warned by the engineer not to jump on the cars.

Friday night St. Bernard Commandery conferred the order of the temple on two candidates and enjoyed a delightful supper and social time among themselves. Mrs. F. B. Arnold, wife of the present, Eminent Commander, and Mrs. Dan M. Evans, looked after the plans and arrangements for the supper. The tables were beautifully decorated with autumn leaves arranged in red cross designs. The work was embellished with music. Judging from the hour of adjournment it is a sure thing that the boys had a good time.

KENTUCKY RESOURCES

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 28.—The Building Committee of the Commercial Club, W. M. McKow, chairman, met last night to consider the advisability of renting quarters affording four or five floors, thus providing space for displaying the exhibits of Kentucky at the St. Louis exhibits of Kentucky at the St. Louis Exposition, meeting rooms and offices. It is proposed to remove the Kentucky exhibits to Louisville, so that visitors can be shown the products and resources of the State.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

President Roosevelt Acknowledges Debt of American People for Blessings Upon the Nation.

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES: A PROCLAMATION:

It has pleased Almighty God to bring the American people in safety and honor through another year, and, in accordance with the long unbroken custom handed down to us by our forefathers, the time has come when a special day shall be set apart in which to thank Him who holds all nations in the hollow of His hand for the mercies thus vouchsafed to us. During the century and a quarter of our national life, we as a people have been blessed beyond all others, and for this we owe humble and heartfelt thanks to the author of all blessings. The year that has closed has been one of peace within our own borders, as well as between us and all other nations. The harvests have been abundant, and those who work, whether with hand or brain, are prospering greatly. Reward has waited upon honest effort. We have been enabled to do our duty to ourselves and to others. Never has there been a time when religions and charitable effort has been more evident. Much has been given to us and much will be expected from us. We speak of what has been done by this nation in no spirit of boastfulness or vainglory, but with full and reverent realization that our strength is as nothing unless we are helped from above. Hitherto we have been given the heartiest strength to do the tasks allotted to us as they severally arise. We are thankful for all that has been done for us in the past and we pray that in the future we may be strengthened in the unending struggle to do our duty fearlessly and honestly, with charity and good will, with respect for ourselves and with love toward our fellowmen. In this great Republic the effort to combine national strength with personal freedom is being tried on a scale more gigantic than ever before in the world's history. Our success will mean much, not only for ourselves, but for the future of all mankind; and every man or woman in our land should feel the grave responsibility resting upon him or her, for in the last analysis this success must depend upon the high average of our individual citizenship, upon the way in which each of us does his duty by himself and his neighbor.

Now, therefore, I, Theodore Roosevelt, President of the United States, do hereby appoint and set apart Thursday, the 24th of this November, to be observed as a day of festival and thanksgiving by all the people of the United States at home or abroad, and do recommend that on that day they cease from their ordinary occupations and gather in their several places of worship or in their homes, devoutly to give thanks unto Almighty God for the benefits He has conferred upon us as individuals and as a nation, and to beseech Him that in the future His divine favor may be continued to us.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the City of Washington, this 1st day of November, in the year of our Lord 1904 and of the independence of the United States the 129th. By the President, THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

JOHN HAY, Secretary of State.

PYTHIAN REPRESENTATIVES

WELL ENTERTAINED.

Grand Lodge Locates Widows' and Orphans' Home—Next Meeting at Hopkinsville.

C. H. McGary and Jesse Phillips, who represented Victoria Lodge Knights of Pythias last week at the Grand Lodge meeting held at Franklin, had the good fortune to fall into the hands of Editor C. C. Pare, of the Franklin Favorite, and came back full of praise for their host and hostess and for the good town of Franklin. The Grand Lodge was handsomely entertained by the Franklin people. The location of the proposed widows' and orphans' home was productive of much discussion, and in the end was awarded to Lexington.

The Grand Lodge refused to appropriate $8,000 to liquidate the deficit caused by the biennial convocation at Louisville last summer. The meeting next year will be at Hopkinsville, commencing on the first Tuesday in October.

Injured at Guthrie.

Anderson Martin, a switchman in the Guthrie yard, was painfully but not seriously injured at Guthrie Saturday night by falling from a car while at work. The back of the head and face were cut and bruised. He was brought home on 52 Monday and taken to the home of his sister, Mrs. Deshon. The injuries, while quite painful, are not considered serious, and it is thought he will be able to resume his duties in a few days.

Manufacturing sorrow is one of the worst of sins.

Hallowe'en Party.

Forty little ghosts met at the home of Mable Browning Hallowe'en eve and in a body went to the lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Arnold who had supplied this party as a pleasant surprise for their sons, George and Edgar. After playing games and having a good time generally elegant refreshments were served and the happy children reluctantly went home, all agreeing that they had spent a delightful, jolly evening. Mr. and Mrs. Dan M. Evans, Miss Annie Moore and Miss Mary Mothershead assisted Mr. and Mrs. Arnold in entertaining the children.

Out for Fun.

A jolly party, out for fun and mischief bent, started out on Hallowe'en eve intent on having a good time if there was one to be had, and they succeeded. On the road they met two lively ghosts, who joined the party, and all wended their way to Fawcett Heights, the home of the ghosts, where they spent the evening, till the wee small hours, in trying their fortunes, hazing and playing games to the amusement of all. After enjoying refreshments of fruits, raisins, figs and nuts, they said good night, wishing Hallowe'en came more than once a year.

Many would rather be in sin than out of style.

Praying lips cannot square up for profane lying.

The greatest coward is the one who is afraid of being charged with fear.

The church service that does not stretch out onto the street only serves the devil.

SAVED FRIEND'S LIFE TWICE IN A SINGLE DAY.

Hon. J. R. Dean Rescued Dillard Todd Twenty Years Ago.

Dillard Todd, of the Pond river country, was in Earlington Tuesday. Mr. Todd is one of the most substantial farmers in his section. Twenty years ago he and our neighbor, Jas. R. Dean, were neighbors on the Island in the eastern part of Hopkins county and Mr. Todd's visit here recalled a close shave he had and how Mr. Dean saved his life twice in one day. The two neighbors had been afoot to Madisonville. It was winter and they could only get to town by passing on foot over the ice covering the water that surrounded the Island. Returning in the afternoon they started across the ice, which presently broke under Mr. Todd's weight and dropped him in the water, where he struggled to get a hold on the edge of the broken ice, only to feel it give away again. Mr. Dean, fortunately, got a footing on an imbedded log near enough to reach him with a pitchfork which he had brought. He tried to get his panic stricken friend to take hold of the fork handle, but finally turned the other end and punched the fork at Todd until one of the tines stuck in his hand. This fixed his attention and he grabbed the fork and was saved. Before they got over the remaining distance on the ice Mr. Todd broke through again. This time he had confidence and extended his arms wide out on the ice so as to sustain his weight until his companion could help him. Again Mr. Dean was fortunate to gain a firm footing and forked him out of the hole. The two then stood on the ice three hours until they could attract attention and their people could haul a skiff by wagon to the edge of the water and rescue them. It is not often that a man may save the life of a friend, but to save a life twice in a single day makes a story worth recounting a half century later.

Hallowe'en Party.

Miss Georgia Wyatt entertained a few of her friends Monday night at her home on Methodist hill. The guests indulged in the usual games practiced on the night when sheeted ghosts are said to gambol in the glades and mischievous brownies play pranks on mortals. After the round of games were exhausted delightful refreshments were served and the party broke up at a late hour, each guest conscious of having spent a delightful evening with their charming hostess.

Hallowe'en Trick.

Mr. H. D. Coward, one of Earlington's popular clerks, was greatly surprised Monday night. On going to his room, preparatory to retiring, he found several empty boxes piled up in front of his door. Mr. Coward did not hesitate a moment, but immediately and vigorously caught one of the boxes and jerked it down, when, to his discomfort, a bucket of water came tumbling down on his head, wetting his new (?) overcoat and wilting his collar. Mr. Coward is a good man and does not swear under ordinary circumstances, but on this occasion it is reported he said:—"St. Bernard."

Rusty pipes do not enrich the water of life.

A man may be loud and yet not say much.

Happiness is never gained until it is given.

TIRED OF LIFE.

A. K. Draper Tries to Commit Suicide by the Carbolic Acid and Laudanum Route.

FAILED TO ACCOMPLISH PURPOSE.

Earlington people were treated to a genuine surprise Tuesday night when A. K. Draper, a young man of this city, took carbolic acid and laudanum with suicidal intent.

Mr. Draper had been in bad health for some time and in addition to this he was in trouble financially to a small extent. These and other causes depressed him to such an extent he determined to end his earthly troubles. On Tuesday evening he purchased from John X. Taylor a small vial of laudanum and one of carbolic acid and carried them home. Before retiring that night he said to his father he did not feel well and went to bed earlier than usual. On entering his room he mixed the contents of the two bottles together, swallowed it and retired. In a short time his father heard him groaning and went in the room. He asked him if he felt worse, but received no reply. On approaching the bed Mr. Draper caught scent of the carbolic acid and at once surmised that his son had taken it. Dr. Johnson was called and by prompt, energetic work saved his life. Mr. Draper stated to a representative of THE BEE that he was very despondent over business matters and had been ill so much he thought it was better to die than to live. He is getting along nicely now, however, and says he will make no more attempt to take his life.

OTHO ANDERSON ASSAULTED.

County Attorney of Christian Knocked Down on the Street by Bartender.

George Merritt, a bartender, assaulted Otho Anderson, county attorney of Christian, at Hopkinsville last Thursday, knocking him down and bruising his face. Merritt was mad because of a question the attorney asked in a trial bearing upon the alleged questionable character of a woman with whom it seems Merritt sustains friendly relations. Mr. Anderson knew nothing of such relationship and says he had to ask the question to which Merritt took exceptions in order to bring out necessary evidence in the trial of Mack Horn for killing his father, and that the woman was the alleged cause of the trouble between Horn and his father which resulted in the latter's death. Merritt surrendered and plead guilty to the charge which might be brought against him.

JOHN W. YERKES ILL AT A LEXINGTON HOSPITAL.

Serious Throat Trouble Cut Short His Speaking Tour.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 31.—Hon. John W. Yerkes, United States Internal Revenue Commissioner, is now a patient at the Good Samaritan Hospital in this city suffering from a severe throat affection, and he was removed to the institution in order that he could receive the best of treatment. Mr. Yerkes was forced to cancel his speaking engagements in this State owing to the seriousness of the trouble, and it was believed by his attending physician, Dr. W. B. McClure, that he would have to undergo an operation. It is now believed, however, that with perfect quiet and rest for a few weeks he will be able to leave the hospital without an operation.

"A Breezy Time" which will be seen at Temple Theatre Nov. 3, is one of the most effective farce comedies in town this season. It is diverting without being insane, and has a slight story which makes a very strong vehicle for introducing the various specialties of different members of the cast, each one of whom is an artist in his or her line.

Autumn is here in all her splendor. She has donned her gorgeous robes of red and yellow and many are enjoying themselves roaming through the woods. Sunday afternoon a part of grown folk and children met at the Arboretum and spent two hours in playing games and in drinking in the beauties of nature.

Fresh oysters, W. L. Walden's.

Rev. J. E. King preached his first sermon at the Southern Methodist church for this conference year last Sunday morning and evening to large and appreciative congregations. Rev. King will fill the pulpit next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock and evening at 7:30 o'clock. The public is earnestly invited to attend.

The next attraction at Temple Theatre after "The Moonshiner's Daughter" will be Fitz & Webster's newest, "A Breezy Time." The adjective that is included in the title of the farce comedy, "A Breezy Time," fully indicates the nature of the production.

It has been the purpose of the author to make the performance breezy; simply refreshing enough to revive jaded minds, and not cause the mind to sit in a draft, so to speak. The company includes 20 of the cleverest farceurs in the profession, each having been selected to exactly fit the role he or she may be cast for.

Quite a clever joke was played by one of the members of the juvenile hallowsen party Monday night as a number of them were returning from the party given at Mrs. Frank Arnold's. It happened that just as they reached the railroad, about midnight, train No. 54 was standing at the depot, and one of the youngsters observing a lady's head protruding from one of the car windows, walked up to her with outstretched hands, wrapped in the sheet which she had worn to the party, and the lady evidently not thinking about it being hallowsen, took it to be a genuine ghost, and with a yell that would do justice to a Commanche Indian, fell back in the car in a swoon, and was only awakened to a realization of the fact that she was the victim of a practical joke by the peals of laughter from the other passengers in the car who had caught onto the joke.

A man who is imbued with jollity never can bear any derangement of the brain, nor worry himself about his longevity, as it is an acknowledged fact that motherfulness will produce long life, besides bringing out the better qualities of the inner man, and next to a good meal a man wants amusement, and when it can be obtained as easily as it can be witnessing that unequalled bunch of laughmakers—A Breezy Time company. First class in every particular.

It had a very bad cough and the parents did not know what to give it. I suggested that if they would get a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and put some upon the gummy that the baby was sucking it would no doubt cure the child. ## MADISONVILLE AND WATER.

On November 8 the question whether Madisonville shall have a system of waterworks will be voted upon by citizens, progressive and otherwise, of that city of sufficient wealth to have anything the public good demands. The Bee trusts that Madisonville's progressive citizens may greatly predominate and that they will decide by a large majority to take a little more water in their'n. The county seat was a fearfully long time getting away from the cheap, old plan of five months public schools, while she sat jingling her pockets full of cash and sending her favored sons and daughters to distant schools—letting the multitude of children do their best in the short, free public school held in any sort of room available. We write feelingly on this question because we were subject, as a boy, to just such indifferent public school advantages, and at Madisonville, and were numbered among the unfortunate majority who could not command better things. The town now has schools and electric lights, and waterworks and sewerage system should come next and not be long in coming. We are for home first, but want to see the entire county progress in all good things, hence our speaking out on this question which concerns directly only the citizens of Madisonville. There have been ugly fires there and others may come at any time, as uncontrollable and possibly much more disastrous. Madisonville should get water and get it quick. It wouldn't hurt the town and its Saturday and court day visitors to drink more of the limpid fluid, and it is certainly good to put out fires.

The Democratic spellbinders and brass banders of Hopkins and Webster counties are out on a campaign of "logic" this week. The ragtime of the banders is good and quite as strong argument as the ragging of the binders. This is another example of high plane politics.

EDITOR COLLINS, of the Green River News, didn't mean anything by associating the Democratic roster and ticket with the handsome picture of a large elephant—always the emblem of the G. O. P.—at which a small boy was firing wads from a popgun, but it certainly was funny. The roster surmounted the editorial column in true partisan organ style, followed by the ticket. Immediately under the candidates' names was the elephant picture underwritten with the sentiment, "You cannot kill an elephant with a popgun."

Some of the papers in the Third Congressional district who have been poking fun at William Henry Jones, the Republican nominee, and calling names may have a chance to change their views after election. The more conservative Democratic papers seem to show that they see a strong probability that Mr. Jones will win. And when he goes to Congress he will be found working and working always for the best interests of the district he represents. Mr. Jones is no more a "Bully" perhaps than is his opponent Mr. Richardson, but he has succeeded in establishing an enviable reputation as an honest, conscientious worker in legislative affairs while a member of the Kentucky Senate, and he bears this reputation among men who know him, Democrat and Republican alike.

If one should judge by the number of weddings in this vicinity during these election times, he might conclude that the orator has been abroad in the land and with arguments that were eloquent and convincing, for many have been "elected."

With them the campaigns over and they are beginning to realize that they are the servants of the "people." However long, doubtful or expensive the campaign may have been, we are prepared to state on good authority that it has not been irksome or exceptionally unpleasant. True, his "party" may have interrogated him relative to his attitude on Imperialism, Woman's Rights and Free Trade; financial problems may have been discussed and the doctrine of 16 to 1 without the consent of other people politely denounced along with certain other Rooseveltian whims of expansion, yet without his "party" has whipped him into line and he stands today the victim of its beck and nod, a willing subject of a great Trust.

NEXT Tuesday comes the voting and then the shouting.

Most everybody except Urey Woodson believes Roosevelt will succeed himself. And Urey no doubt believes this, but he is claiming everything in sight.

The things that Bryan said against Parker just after the nomination weigh vastly heavier than all the attacks he has since made on Roosevelt. He was, from his standpoint as leader, righteously indignant then and said what he in his heart believed. His denunciation of Parker was scathing and complete and sincere. His later attacks upon Roosevelt cannot disguise his expressed opinion of Parker.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK.

Success.

If I could teach the business man Three things, they'd make him rich and wise.

Dead sure, yet simple, this my plan: Be upright, work and advertise.

'Tis not enough to buy the best To guard each leak with argus eyes These were in vain without the rest. The constant work and advertise.

For, though you work with hand and brain, Success you never will surprise, Hard work alone is all in vain; Be upright, work and advertise.

For flour and water won't make bread, Without the yeast it will not rise. Success is sure, if, as I've said, You're honest, work and advertise.

TRAINS COLLIDE AT TIPTON, MO.

Three Persons Killed and Twenty-Three Injured in a Rear-End Collision on Missouri Pacific.

TRAIN WAS WORLD'S FAIR SPECIAL, AND WAS RUNNING IN TWO SECTIONS.

The Second Section Crushed Into the First While It Was Taking on Passengers at Tipton, the Rear Sleeper of Section One Being Telescoped and Completely Demolished.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 31.—Three persons were killed and 23 injured in a rear-end collision between section No. 3 and section No. 1 of train No. 3, Missouri Pacific World's fair special, at Tipton, Mo., early Sunday morning. Train No. 3, on account of the heavy World's fair travel, was made up in two sections, the first leaving St. Louis for Kansas City Saturday night at 10:10 p. m. The second section left a few minutes later, and when it reached Tipton, section No. 1 was taking on passengers. Engineer Ramsey, of section No. 2, a headlight in the yards blinded him and he was unable to see section No. 1. He also says that his orders were "Clear ahead." The second section was running about 30 miles an hour when the collision occurred. The end sleeper of section No. 1 was entirely demolished and the second sleeper was overturned.

Robert Eaton and W. E. Price, Pullman porters, injuries slight.

Mrs. J. F. Skinner, Miss Ruth Skinner, Cynthia White, C. C. Porter and B. J. Maguire were taken to hospitals in this city upon their arrival here.

Section No. 1 was in charge of Conductor Sam Lovett. Col. J. B. Jewett, local passenger and ticket agent of the Missouri Pacific, who was on section No. 1 when the accident occurred, said:

"There were five sleepers on section No. 1. I was in the third from the end. About 3 o'clock I was awakened by a sudden crash. Donning my clothes I rushed to the platform and found the end of the sleeper smashed to kindling wood, section No. 2 having telescoped the two rear sleepers."

The injured were taken to Sedalia. Later it was said that A. A. Seligman's injuries were not as bad as at first reported.

Engineer was disappointed.
Those of the passengers whose injuries were slight continued their journey, while the more seriously hurt were taken to the company's hospital in St. Louis. W. J. Black and wife of Topeka were taken to the Missouri, Kansas & Texas hospital at Sedalia. The engine of the second section struck the Pullman car Topeka squarely, splitting it for two-thirds of its length, and all of the 14 passengers in the car were either killed or injured. There were 21 passengers in the next car ahead, and although all were badly shaken up by the collision and received a few scratches, only a few were injured seriously.

The blame, according to Superintendent W. J. McKee, who at once went to the scene of the wreck, rests with the engineer and conductor of the second section. They were running 25 miles an hour when the superintendent said, they should have had their train under control.

New York Will Witness a Battle Royal all This Week.

Both of the Great Parties Will Make a Supreme Effort to Carry the Empire State.

Judge Parker making his first appearance on the stump, aside from his addresses to visiting delegations at Rosemount.

It is expected to give that impetus to the rising tide which democrats are now confident is with them and which they expect to see grow to surprising proportions before the end of the week. The democratic managers are confident that Parker will carry New York, and are predicting 280 votes for him in the electoral college.

Ex-Gov. Nash of Ohio Succumbs to Heart Failure in His Bathroom.

Columbus, O., Oct. 29.—Ex-Gov. George K. Nash dropped dead in the bathroom of his home, 42 Jefferson avenue, Friday morning.

Shortly after entering the bathroom a servant heard the sound of the fall of a body. His meaning was plain, for the ex-governor's sudden death had been expected for some time.

Nash was dead when the servant reached the room. He was a widower and lived with his step-daughter, Mrs. Worthington Babcock, and her husband.

Nash was an inveterate smoker, and this aggravated his heart trouble. He served two terms as governor, and was one of the most popular executives in the history of the state.

Nash was born on a farm in Medina county in 1842.

The funeral will be held Sunday; interment in Greenlawn cemetery.

MINING NOTES.

At the Davis coal mine, near Murganfield, a gasoline engine exploded Saturday and in the gas and smoke which filled the mine, eight miners lost their way. Seven of the eight crawled out, nearly suffocated. Several hours later the eighth man was rescued almost dead.

At Tipton, Mo., an explosion entombed forty-nine miners Friday, Oct. 28. While relief workers were preparing to rescue them, another slide of rock occurred. Huger bowlder made blasting necessary and the men are thought to be dead.

A strike of 800 hoisting engineers in 24 bituminous coal mines of Illinois went into effect Monday night. The cause of the strike is the refusal of the engineers to accept a reduction in wages.

Mr. William Lacy, of St. Charles, visited relatives here Saturday night and Sunday.

Foreman Toombs are putting in new scales at the Barney mine this week.

Mayking, Ky., Nov. 1.—Geo. Venters, a Letcher county teacher has sold his farm of 200 acres to the Mineral Development Company, a Philadelphia corporation, for $10,000. The purchase of the Venter farm completes a block of several thousand acres owned by the Mineral Company, who will begin the development of these lands immediately.

Mr. Joe Cook has accepted a position with the mechanical department of the St. Bernard Mining Company.

Foreman Toombs and crew have been busy for several days this week erecting a new town chute at No. 9 mine to supply the local trade with coal during the coming winter.

The stable that has been under construction by Mr. Brown for some time at the new opening of No. 11 mine was completed Tuesday. All of the mules that are used in this mine will be quartered in the stable instead of being kept underground.

Mr. Will Smith, who has been working at Hecla, has resigned to accept a position with the L. & N. R. R. as brakeman.

Mr. Clem Daniel, of Henderson, has bought 1,800 acres of coal rights in the neighborhood of Leeds, Zion and other portions of Henderson county and is making preparations to begin the development of these mineral lands as soon as arrangements can be made.

Prof. C. J. Norwood, of State College, who returned from St. Louis Tuesday night, is endeavoring to have the exhibit placed in the State Museum here, says the Lexington (Ky.) Herald, where it will be of great value not only as an educational attraction, but as an advertising medium for Kentucky's wonderful resources. After the Chicago World's Fair the most valuable of the mineral and agricultural exhibits from Kentucky were returned to the State Museum, then at Frankfort. Since then the museum has been removed to Lexington. Should the St. Louis collection be brought here it would be added to the one that is controlled by the State Geological Survey and it is thought it would prove to be of greater benefit to the State to have the exhibit here than at Louisville. It was largely due to his personal efforts that the mineral exhibit was made a success.

WATSON CONCEDES ROOSEVELT'S ELECTION

Declares President is Abler Man and Politician Than Accredited.

Trenton, Mo., November 1.—Col. Henry Waterson, editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal, spent Monday afternoon and evening in Trenton. He thought he was dated to deliver a lecture here for the Slayton lyceum bureau of Chicago, but on arrival found that the date had been cancelled. Col. Waterson talked freely of his affairs, but mentioned politics rather guardedly. He said:

"No more campaigning for me. I shall go abroad in the spring. Yes, I have the New York Herald's forecast. The Herald probably has as good an opportunity to know the prospects as can be had. I presume its figures are approximately correct. There is always a chance in politics for the unexpected and highly improbable, but I see little prospect of anything better for the Democracy than the Herald has indicated. It looks like four more years of the same."

"History has several times proved that judges who have been on the bench for long terms make disappointing candidates. They are too staid. They have not the sugar-coat that wins with the masses, and they seem to be out of touch with the people. They are always disappointments."

"Roosevelt is a much abler man and a much shrewder politician than I have given credit for being. It is true that he has ridden all his distinctions on the crest of a popular tide, but he is not by any means blind to his own political advantage. He managed his nomination and his campaign himself, and there is no use denying that he has done a good job."

Good Spirits.

Good spirits don't all come from Kentucky. Their main source is the liver—and the fine spirits ever made in the Blue Grass State could not remedy a bad liver or the hundred-and-one ill effects it produces. You can't have good spirits unless you have a good liver at the same time. Your liver must be in condition if you would feel buoyant, happy and hopeful, bright of eye, light of step, vigorous and successful in your pursuits. You can put your liver in fine condition by using Green's August Flower—the greatest of all medicines for the liver and stomach and a certain cure for dyspepsia or indigestion. It has been found to be a household remedy for over thirty-five years. August Flower will make your liver healthy and active and thus insure you a liberal supply of "good spirits." Trial size, 25c; regular bottles, 75c. At all druggists.

LOCOMOTIVE BLASTS

Phillips Hampton, section foreman at Evansville, has just returned from a week's visit at the World's Fair, being accompanied by Mrs. Hampton.

Engineer James Joyce has moved to Howell from E. St. Louis, out of which place he has been running on local for several years.

Monte Y. Shuster, of Renova, Pa., where he is employed in the Superintendent's office of the Penna Railway System, stopped off at Howell the first of the week on his way to the World's Fair. Mr. Shuster is a nephew of E. J. Young, the general foreman, whom he visited.

Fireman M. J. O'Brien has gone to braking.

Engine 990 from Bakers Hill has gone to Howell shops for a general overhauling.

Geo. Hartman of Howell has been appointed foreman of car repairers at Earlington.

Brakenman H. Saeger got his finger mashed the other day between a switch stand and lever.

E. E. Jarrett, the general foreman at Nashville, spent a few days at the Fair last week, stopping off at Howell on his return to visit his parents and friends at the shops. Mr. Jarrett was formerly foreman of the round house at Howell.

A. A. Beyerstedt, switch fireman in Evansville yard, is taking in the fair. So also is switch engineer Sullivan.

John Mertz, switch engineer at Mt. Vernon, Ill., is visiting the Fair. Fireman Hugh Flannigan is running the engine in his place until he returns.

E. St. Louis switch fireman L. Seigler and Wm. Hennessy have resigned.

Tom Lewis, machinist helper in the Howell round house, has resigned. He will return to his home near Providence.

W. A. Mitchell, foreman car department, Howell, went to Nashville, Tenn., on the 2nd.

A bustling railroad clerk wrote a note in the biggest kind of a hurry. He scribbled that note in precisely one-half minute. The blotter was not handy, so he lost a full minute trying to find it, and then he discovered that he did not need a blotter at all as he had been writing with a lead pencil.

Letters of an engineer to his master mechanic, No. 2. Dear Sir: I am sorry to have to advise you that we had a rather bad delay on this trip. As you will recollect the watch inspector turned my watch down because it had to be turned up too much and you give me to understand that I had to buy a new one, which I did. Well, sir, that new watch stopped on me right at the place where the 213 jumped the track three years ago and tore down a mile of fence. The only thing I could do was to stop the train and go to the nearest farm house and set the thing, as the conductor's watch had been taken away from him just a previous by train robbers, who got off the train and scooted when I stopped. The nearest farm house was a mile away. So we were delayed about over an hour, as they didn't have the time, and had to go still further. I see now, however, that the proper way to have done would have been to have gone into the first station and asked the agent. I say that to save you the trouble of reprimanding me, as I have already kicked myself for walking so far.

THE NIGHT BEFORE 'LECTION.

S. W. Gillilan in Baltimore American.

'Twas the night before 'lection, and all through the land
 Ev'rybody was speling, including the band;
 All the prophets were propping and liars galore
 Were claiming to have a straight tip on the score.
 Claiming silence hung over Esopus as though
 The landscape was wrapped in a mantle of snow;
 But ev'rywhere else there was bustle and clang—
 The spellbinders boud and the welkin re-rang
 With heated-air estimates wild as a deer,
 And Taggart's forced smile reaching back to each ear.
 The tapping of hammers was everwhere heard—
 'Twas the nailing of lies as they swiftly occurred.
 Pa Davis was saying, while rubbing his goat,
 "Thank heaven, tomorrow we'll be down and out."
 Bill Bryan was shouting at the top of his voice,
 Proclaiming "On Wednesday we're sure to rejoice."
 With him it was true, for he'd jump and holler
 To see Alton B. get it under the collar.
 Tom Watson was saying: "By gravy, 'twas me
 Gave Alton and Henry the lalaps-see!"
 Si Swallow was figuring what it had cost
 To play he was leading a cause that was lost.
 Gene Debs and his partner were wondering how
 They'd fare in the morrow's post-bailot-box row.
 While Corrigan, Cox and the others galore
 Were patiently waiting, prepared for the worst.
 And ready to bet they didn't land first.
 But Teddy and Charley and George B. C.,
 With Cannon, Elihu and William H. T.,
 McComas and Lodge, Leslie Shaw and the others
 Who'd stood at the front in defense of their brothers,
 Were saying: "We're ready to lick 'em tomorrow,
 To land them a goodly collection of sorrow.
 Though Isie and Art joined their forces to win,
 Their dummy stays out and our Teddy stays in.
 There wasn't a question this year they were right on—
 They've fought a bum battle with nothing to fight on."
